LITTLE RIVER-GABRIEL AREA GETS FQUIPMENT

At a meeting called on April 22nd, 1942, the District Supervisors of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil Conservation District purchased two large Farmall tractors and two whirl wind terracers for building terraces for farmers in the priority areas of the District.

One tractor and whirl wind terracer will be used first in the Sharp priority area under the supervision of Paul Graves, District Sepervisor of this community and the other tractor and whirl wind terracer will start out at Florence under the supervision of W. H. Wilson, District Supervisor of the Florence Community. The charges will be $2 per hour for this equipment and will be used only on farms lying within a priority area and having a District agreement approved by the District Supervisors.

Adequate sodded terraces outlet protection is of prime importance before the terraces are constructed and it will be the policy to use the equipment for terrace construction where terraces will empty onto sodded pasture or sodded outlet channels.

Farmers should get a complete soil conservation plan for their farms in order to make them eligible for using the District equipment. In the East end of the District, Paul Graves has received application on some 14,060 acres in the Sharp, Tracy and San Gabriel communities. Other farmers interested in these communities should give their application to Paul Graves, District Supervisor in the East end of the Little River-San Gabriel District which includes the area between the Little River and San Gabriel River, west to the Burnet County line, having approximately 648,000 acres.

NEGRO CONFESSES KILLING OF HIS AGED BLIND WIFE

HENRY ROBERSON NOW FACES MURDER CHARGE

Henry Roberson, 78 year old negro, late Friday confessed that he killed his aged, blind wife on December 7, 1941, as she slept in bed at their farm shanty near Jones Prairie.

Sheriff Valter White, Saturday told the Daily Herald, the story of months of work and how finally the case had been solved with a full and complete confession from the aged negro.

Roberson has been under arrest and in jail for the past month and at the time of the murder was arrested but officers were unable to pin the crime on him. Sheriff White held steadfastly to his belief that the aged negro had slain his wife and was rewarded Friday with the confession that detailed the crime.

On the morning of December 7, 1941, the date on which the Japs attacked Pearl Horbor and plunged the United States into war, the aged negro who said he had quarreled with his wife the day previous to the killing, entered her room, stabbed her with a long bladed pocket knife and then beat her to death with a fire poker. The knife and slab of steel were found in an ash bank under the house where the negro said he had placed them after the murder.

After he had killed his aged, blind wife and taken $140 in money from a belt around her waist, he set fire to the home. As he saw the flames licking away at the house he suddenly decided that he should try to save it because in the house were his own personal effects. He went to a nearby neighbor, another negro, and called for help. They can back and put out the fire. The neighbor asked Roberson about his aged wife and the negro replied she was in her room. When the neighbor opened the door the horribly beaten body of the aged negress was found.

Roberson was arrested, taken to San Antonio and placed under a lie detector. After that he was more or less exonerated of the crime but not by the sheriff who believed him guilty.

Roberson's wife, although blind, was the boss and kept the money. Both received old age pensions. When they quarreled about the money on December 6th he decided to kill her.

Sheriff White said he was indebted to the people of the neighborhood for co-operation and also peace officers, especially Constable Sam Hickman of Precinct 2, who also believed the aged negro guilty. Justice John Thweatt of Maysfield also rendered great help.

Judge R. M. Briggs who resigned as criminal district attorney at Silsbee, Texas, to enter the Ranger service was here in the last stages of the investigation and took part in the 48 hour grilling that finally cracked the case. Brady Pamplin, Texas Ranger, also was here and assisted in the case.

Ed Gunn, Criminal District Attorney, took the confession, and has filed formal charges of murder.

NEGRO INDICTED FOR KILLING AGED WIFE

Henry Roberson, 78 year old negro, is under indictment for murder.

The Grand Jury in district court here Monday, reconvened by Judge Graham Gillis, returned an indictment under evidence submited by Ed Gunn, Criminal District Attorney.

Roberson killed his aged, blind wife in their farm cabin on December 7, 1941. He said they had quarreled the day previous over money. A money belt containing $140 was taken from the body of the aged woman.

Roberson told officers he had buried the money but it has not been located, though a considerable search was made Sunday.

MACHINE GUNS KILL ALL BUT 4 MEMBERS OF CREW

J. L. Isbell and Jack Pond are now believed dead and their bodies may never be recovered from the ocean grave to which machine gun bullets sent them in a savage brutal German attack after the men had abandoned their ship following a U-Boat torpedo hit on Thursday of last week somewhere in the waters of territorial United States.

Miss Anna Kirk, employe of Local Board No. 2 at Cameron has just received a letter from Mrs. Isbell who was the former Miss Alma Stewart of Milano and a sister of Jimmie Stewart football star at Yoe High School several years ago.

Mrs. Isbell said that only 4 members of the crew survived the attack. When the U-Boat torpedoed the ship the crew were let down in life boats to pull away from the stricken vessel and as they came into view the machine guns from the German submarine opened fire and killed all save four members.

Mrs. Isbell lives in Beaumont. Her husband was shot from the life boat by the Germans. They have a 4 year old girl.

Isbell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Will Isbell. The father died in West Texas and the mother died here. They bought a small farm near Hoyte and still own the place.

TOLL OF JAP SHIPS IS STEADILY MOUNTING

The United Navy, Pacific Fleet, has won the battle of the Coral Sea and saved Australia from invasion.

General Douglas MacArthur from his headquarters in Australia shortly before noon gave out as much of the story as was available. He said that the battle had been won and the powerful invasion thrust turned back.

Two Japanese aircraft carriers went down in the battle also with 16 other ships in what was described as the greatest naval engagement since the battle of Jutland in world war No. 1 fought by the grand fleets of Britain and Germany.

Powerful units of the American fleet aided by units of the British and Australian navies engaged the Japs on Monday. The battle continued through Friday. General MacArthur said that the American losses were trival.

An Australian report shortly after noon said that the battle has been resumed.

General MacArthur said that the Japanese reports are fictional and no such losses have been sustained by the United States navy. The Japs claimed that an American battleship and two aircraft carriers had been sunk along with one British battleship and a heavy Australian cruiser.

The Japanese invasion fleet was drawn into a trap said the MacArthur report and pounced upon by American ships of war and swarms of bombing planes.

Japanese destroyers made a vain effort to stave off sinkings of their aircraft carriers but American pilots driving dive bombers roared to the attack. The aircraft carriers of Japand were blasted to pieces and thousands of Jap soldiers and sailors were obesrved jumping overboard through flame and smoke.

Heavy units of the United States fleet are said to have taken part in the attack but the main havoc was wrought by torpedo planes and dive bombers.

It was made plain that the battle is not considered won. The Japs are expected to mass all their naval strength and if so the issue would be doubtful but for the present America has avenged Pearl Harbor to some extent and saved Australia.

New Bridge Is Two To 3 Years Off; No Hopes For Present

Construction of a new bridge across Little River is two to three years hence, it has been disclosed in a long letter written by State Highway Engineer to Senator Kyle Vick and now in the hands of L. Van Perkins, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Appropriation for the bridge was made early last summer but the contract was delayed and war came on to further increase difficulties to obtain steel.

The letter which Senator Vick has transmited to Mr. Perkins goes into great detail and on the whole it is an effort to explain why the bridge has not been built.

An interesting disclosure in the letter is that the Highway Department has had the bridge under consideration since 1936 but each time the amount of money was too great and the Commission was not willing to spend it.

There is no satisfactory explanation of similar expenditures elsewhere. It must be assumed that the Commission has all along been unwilling to allot equally needed funds to the county because of the poor condition of highways here.

Even though Highways 77 and 36 should be designated as military highways steel would not be available. Bridges are not being built anywhere.

It was disclosed also that the $225,000 appropriation made for 14 miles of Highway from Rogers to Temple will not be allowed. When the Commission sought to let the contract the federal government stopped the proceedings. The road will have to be maintained now as Milam county roads have been for years, with local highway crews.

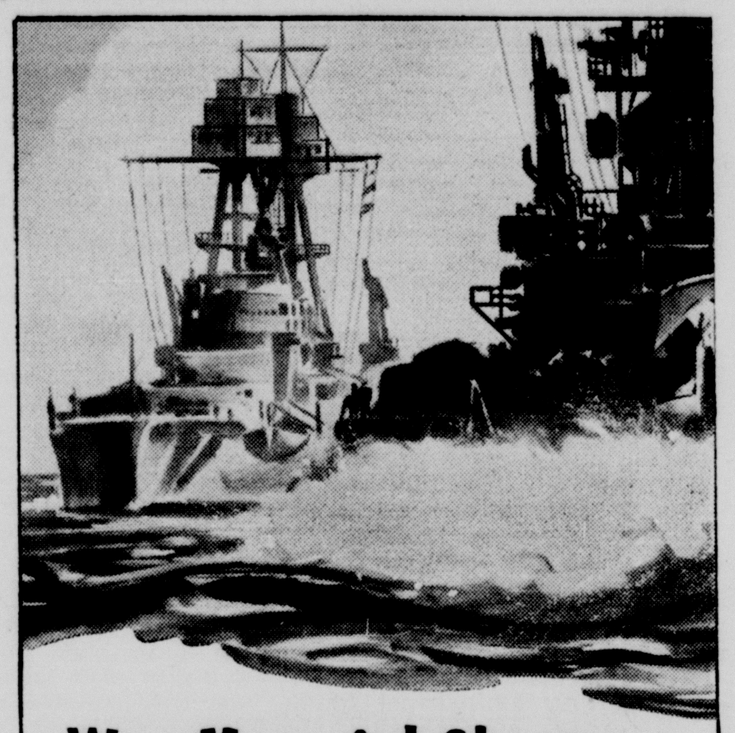
$58,000 Being Spent To Repair Bridge

The State Highway Department is spending $85,000 to make repairs on Little River bridge east of Cameron.

In a recent explanation the state highway engineer said the materials used in the repairs on this bridge can be salvaged two years from now and used in the construction of bridges elsewhere.

Repairs were necessary if the bridge is to be kept in use. Injury and even death has resulted from traffic over the bridge in recent months.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Odem, pioneer citizens of Milam County are observing their 60th anniversary at their home in Bryan Station, May 9, 1942.



War Material Shortage Limits Telephone Service

You probably have heard about certain government restrictions on telephone service and equipment now in effect. We should like to tell you a little more about these restrictions—why they are necessary, and what they will mean to you.

The reason for them is simple and complete. They are to save materials which are needed to fight the war.

What will they mean to you, the telephone user?

If you have a telephone now, they mean no change except that in many Texas cities affected by war growth you may have to have other parties on your line. And, in all cases, you can't get an extension telephone in your home if you haven't one already.*

For people who have no telephones and want them, or for present users who move to new locations, we shall supply at least party-line service wherever there are now enough lines and switchboards. But in general, where new construction of this type would be necessary, we shall not be able to provide service.*

This will mean inconvenience and perhaps hardship to a few people now. As time goes on it will probably mean inconvenience and hardship to more people, but we need your help and sympathetic understanding in this important step to save the maximum of materials for the war.

Beside the great savings in materials already made by substitution and wartime engineering, the new restrictions will mean that more lead, iron, steel, zinc, copper, and rubber used in telephone equipment will now go into arms.

In spite of all this, and while telephone service may not be available to all who want it, we believe we can keep the service up to a high standard. At any rate, we shall do our level best. These difficulties are something that neither the government nor the telephone companies can help. They are part of the price of protecting liberty.

*Except for those cases where the need for telephone service has been recognized by the War Production Board as necessary for defense or public health, welfare or security.

Men With Dependents Not Engaged in War Work Will Be Called Up; "Work or Fight" Order to Moblize Manpower Under New Instructions

Many Selective Service registrants who have been deferred from military service solely because they have dependents will eventuallly be inducted unless in the meantime they become engaged in activities essential to the Nation's war effort, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, stated today.

"We are rapidly approaching the stage where everyone must be either working or fighting to win this war," General Page said. "War requirements—the demand for manpower by essential industries as well as the armed forces—will compel many local boards within the next several months to find selectees for their quotas among registrants who have dependents.

"Right now local boards are reconsidering all registrants with dependency deferments for two major purposes. The first is to eliminate from this class all men who cannot prove that their dependents need their earned income for support in a reasonable manner and all who cannot prove that they did not acquire dependents to avoid military service. The second purpose is to distinguish between men who have dependents but are not engaged in activities aiding the Nation's war effort and those who are contributing for victory by their work as civilians.

"By making this distrinction between those engaged in essential activities and those whose civilian occupations are not contributng to the war efforts, it is desired to induce a voluntary movement of the latter into essential activities and thus to release for military service men without dependents who must be deferred as 'necessary men' until they can be replaced at their work."

Persons engaged in nonessential activities, however, should not cease their present employment until their services are needed in some essential activity, General Page warned. He said:

"This voluntary movement from nonessential to essential activities should be a gradual, orderly, and economically sound tranfer of manpower. The Federal Government will make known, from time to time, the opportunities for training and employment in activities essential to the war effort so that this shift of employment may be made without unnecessary disturbance to the welfare of the community, the fainly, and the individual. Each individual registrant, however, knows or should inquire into his own capabilities and the opportunities for employment in war industry, and should seek such employment without waiting for specific instructions from the Government.'

When men with dependents are considered for military service, General Page emphasized, local boards will have regard for occupation together with the degree of dependency. Registrants who have the greatest degree of dependency, such as a dependent wife and children, will be the last group sought for military service, he said, provided that they have become necessary men in war production or supporting activities."

SOUTH PACIFIC FIGHT IS GREATEST OF WAR

Up to noon Friday the American Pacific Naval Fleet had taken a toll of 17 Japanese ships of war and eleven are known to have been sunk.

The battle covered 200,000 miles of area in the South Pacific was said in newscasts to be the greatest of the war with American naval guns, hungry for revenge over Pearl Harbor, blasting Japanese warships, and airplane carriers and at least one transport.

The fight was believed to be the opening phase of the campaign by the Japs to invade Australia. The naval battle which dispatches said Friday was still in progress was occuring directly east of Australia.

The Navy Department in Washington confirmed the sinkings of the Japanese ships of war. American losses were described as 3 planes

The Japanese claim to have sunk an American battleship, two airplane carriers and a destroyer. The American government has denied this report.

Before the battle is over American losses may be heavy because the navy has never had anything like an equal force against the Japs.

Red Russian troops now maintain the offensive on land and in the air with the German air force showing negligible strength on the Eastern front.

C. E. Knight, Born In Milam County, Is Here Seeking Relatives

C. E. Knight of Loving, Texas, with his wife and 5 year old son Bwayne, are in Cameron today trying to locate relatives who may still reside in this county.

Mr. Knight was taken to the I. Z. T. Morris home for orphan children in Fort Worth, in 1910. He was 4 years of age. With him were two sisters about 11 and 7 years of age. He remained in the home only a few days and was adopted by E. Knight of Strawn, Texas.

Mr. Knight's parents were named Smith and his name before his adoption was Charles Edward Smith. He has never heard from his two sisters, although he advertised for them over the radio back in 1927.

In the hope that some of the older citizens of the county may remember the family along about 1910 and the three children of which he was the youngest, Mr. Knight is making inquiries here Friday. Around 3:30 the family went to the cemetery to see if graves might be located.

From Cameron he planned to go to Rockdale.

Mr. Knight spent some time searching records at the court house but cannot find anything of record although Judge Jeff T. Kemp remembers the children and their departure for the orphans home. Judge Kemp was then County Clerk.

The parents are believed to be dead or may have died before the children were taken to the orphans home. Anyone having information or who may have recollection of the family should communicate with Mr. Knight at Loving, Texas. He is a driller and has seen much activity in the West Texas oil fields.

Texas Power & Light Co., to Furnish Power For McGregor Plant

"Electric service for the Bluebonnet ordnance plant near McGregor will be supplied by the Texas Power & Light Company," John C. Young, district manager of the company, stated yesterday.

"Contract to supply the service has been negotiated with representatives of the government, and priority certificates covering the purchase of materials needed to supply the service have been issued. The Texas Power & Light Company has been serving McGregor since November of 1915," Mr. Young said.

Adequate Reserve

"The company's network of transmission lines makes it possible to adequately and efficiently supply the needs of great developments of this kind throughout the area served by the company. In fact since its organization in 1912, it has been the policy of the Texas Power & Light Company to maintain a reserve supply of power sufficient to meet the increased demands of both normal growth and emergencies.

"The Company's widespread network of transmission and distribution lines, which in addition to serving new war requirements now serves 151,000 customers, including more than 25,000 farm and rural customers, has proved highly valuable to the war effort from the standpoint of time and money," said Mr. Young. "Because these lines already exist, costly delays necessitated by construction of new facilities, which utilize vital copper and steel, have been eliminated.

"Texas Power & Light Company, which built the first transmission lines in the state in 1912, now supplies the electrical requirements of numerous war industries, army camps and air training schools. In every instance the company has had the power ready in advance of the time it was needed. As a result, not a single delay has occured due to lack of electricity in the 52-county area of north, east and central Texas served by the Texas Power & Light Company," pointed out Mr. Young.

Nutrition, that's what does it

What every woman should know about vitamin-saving
1 Use very little water in cooking.
2 Cook vegetables for the shortest possible time.
3 Cover utensils to keep air out.
4 Avoid unnecessary stirring of vegetables.
5 Don't put in baking soda to brighten food colors.
6 Start vegetables in boiling water.
7 Don't throw away vegetable liquids—use them in soups or cream sauces.
8 Keep foods as fresh as possible—use dependable automatic refrigeration.
9 Serve plenty of green vegetables.
10 Serve foods soon after cooking.
11 Broiling is preferable to frying to retain vitamins.
12 Low-temperature roasting saves vitamins and minerals.

NATURAL GAS COOKING has always been geared to war-time requirements in speed, flexibility and simplicity. Now with increased thinking on the subject of Vitamins and Proper Nourishment housewives that use gas for cooking find that here, too, gas meets the most rigid requirements of nutrition experts.

VITAMIN SAVING BURNERS

- Simmer setting of burners make possible the waterless, vitamin-saving cooking technique recommended by experts for cooking vegetables.

VITAMIN SAVING BROILER

- No preheating necessary. Meats retain more vitamin-rich juices because cold start broiling enables you to broil the portion nearest the flame without over cooking the under side.

VITAMIN SAVING OVEN

- Controlled heat enables you to roast meats with minimum of water, and yet avoid drying-out. Low temperature roasting also enables you to reduce meat shrinkage as much as 20%.

Prized Cat at City Cafe Is Missing; Is Being Eagerly Sought

The City Cafe was in gloom Monday and its proprietor, Ott Storey, was stricked with anxiety over the loss since Saturday night of his much prized cat.

The cat disappeared Saturday night, it is presumed as he was not in the cafe Sunday morning nor could a good search Sunday turn up any trace of him.

The cat is unusual and was raised from a small kitten in the cafe where patrons, without exception, always have time to give him an affectionate stroke.

Totsy, a blue blood, midget bull, and the cat are great pals. They play and wrestle about the floor and when they are tired, lay down together and sleep.

If you see a gray and white cat, a young male cat with amber eyes anywhere, please report to Mr. Storey.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Florence Markham and Mattie Houston over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Grayson of Edna, Mrs. Steve Matthews of Lampassas, Mrs. Flate Brooks of Freeport, Mrs. Frank Barrett of Yarrellton and Mr. and Mrs Charlie Barrett of Corpus Christi.

NAZI ADMIT CRIMEA CAMPAIGN IS NIPPED

Nazi Germany has lost the battle of Crimea.

Thrown back by heroic Russians the Blitz legions of Adolph Hitler, for the first time in this war could not go ahead.

Even Berlin had to say that the battle has been lost. The fight opened on May 8 and was heralded as a push to the rich oil fields in the Caucuses. It was said that 60 per cent of the German air force had been employed.

For the first time the Germans have admited they did not have sufficient air support to win a battle. Hitler was quoted as saying the going was tough, so tough he could not succeed with plans.

While a lull ensued in other parts of the world all eyes were on Russia.

In the battle of the Coral Sea the United States navy and air force had run the total up to 23 ships.

Military experts predicted that Japan would now be certain to attack Russia in the far east and to limit South Pacific operations to harrassing communication lines since the disaster that befell the Japs in Coral Sea.

The attack on Russia was believed certain and the reason is to prevent American air bases being established in Siberia off the Japanese mainland.

General MacArthur in the land down under has so well organized the growing air force that the element of surprise has been taken from the Japanese attack. The General, one of the most resourceful men in military history, is pounding the Japs day and night.

will meet him half way. That's the way to win the war.

Mrs. Paley Wenck, the former Miss Josephine Eickenhorst, from Hearne is spending the week in Cameron with Misses Margaret Moore and Enid Wazel.

May term of Grand Jury adjourned Tuesday with three indictments reported.

J. C. Perkins, special ranger, of Hearne was in Cameron Friday.

"I hope the day will come too when I will see again all the football pals.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

RUMMAGING through my desk the other day, I came across some snapshots of friends of mine made back in 1933.

If you don't think time flies . . . if you don't think this world ever changes . . . you ought to look at the women's hats and dresses in those pictures taken 9 years ago! Wow!

It gave me quite a start . . . and then it set me to thinking . . . and rememberin'! Lots of things sure happened in 1933. A new administration in Washington . . . the turning point of the depression . . . and the coming of Repeal.

I remember the re-legalization of beer. It came before Repeal, when Congress amended the old Volstead Act to allow legal sale of "3.2" beer.

What talk and arguments they had in those days! One argument I remember well . . . was that beer would do a lot to help bring back prosperity. I wondered at the time whether that argument could be proved.

I thought about that again, the other day. I decided to check up and find out.

Well, I found out plenty. I found out that legal beer has paid more than 3 billion dollars in taxes since 1933. It has made more than a million new jobs.

According to one of the reports I've seen, beer has put more than 15 billion dollars into general business circulation. Goodness me, that's a lot of money.

Beer is sold today in every state in the Union. Every state benefits from beer's jobs and taxes. And I guess there's no denying that beer did do its share in bringing back better times.

I'm glad it did, too, because beer is such a pleasant, appetizing beverage. And it stands for moderation and moderate people . . . it's not likely to get you in trouble.
